

Omega Protein Corp.

Omega Protein Corporation is the world's largest producer of omega-3 fish oil. We develop high-quality, innovative solutions from a single, sustainable species of fish, the menhaden. And we market a custom line of highly refined omega-3 fish oil ingredients to food, nutraceutical and supplement manufacturers.

Only Omega Protein has the expertise and resources to help food and supplement manufacturers take advantage of the proven benefits of omega-3 fatty acids—the ingredients that add value and higher margin to your functional foods.

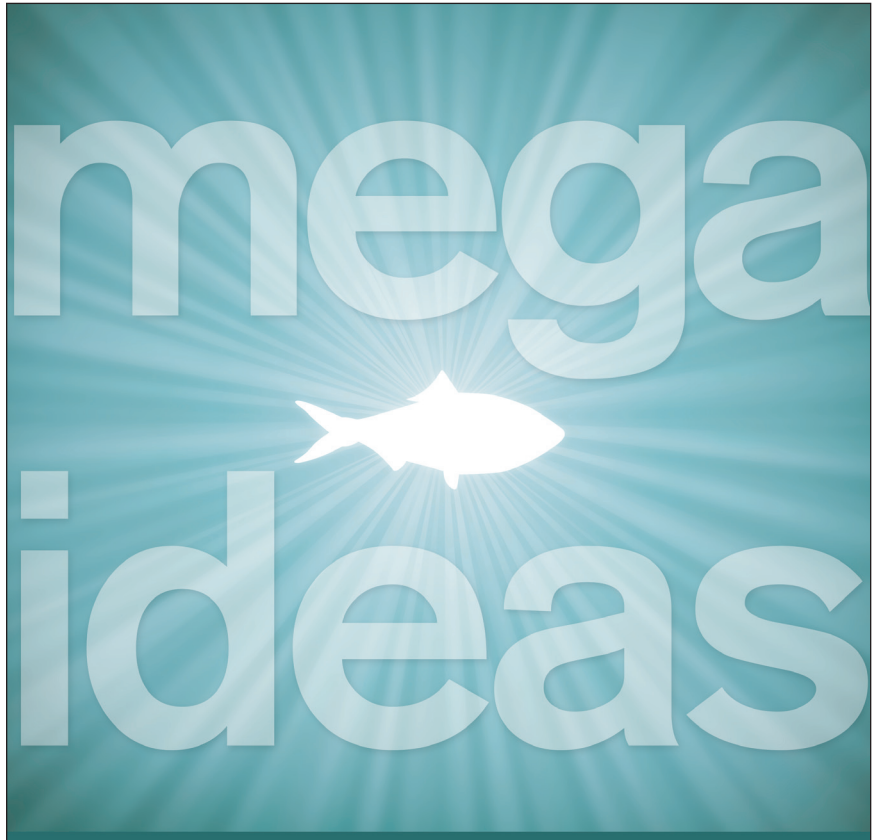

We control every step of the production process—from company-owned fishing vessels to our state of the art refinery—we ensure product integrity, consistent quality and complete traceability.

As the industry leader, we established the OmegaPure Technology and Innovation Center for research and development of new and innovative ways to integrate omega-3 fatty acids into food formulations.

It takes more than ingredients; it takes insight. And that's essential to the good health of a growing market.
